American FactFinder

The screenshot shows the American FactFinder website as it appeared in a Netscape browser. The browser's title bar reads "American FactFinder - Netscape". The address bar shows the URL "http://factfinder.census.gov/java_proc/dads.u.homePage.HomePage". The website header includes the "U.S. Census Bureau" logo and the "American FactFinder" title with a magnifying glass icon. Navigation links for "Main Page", "Feedback", and "Help Me" are visible. A left-hand sidebar contains links for "What's New", "About FactFinder", "About Help Me", "Confidentiality", and "Frequently Asked Questions". The main content area is organized into three columns of links. The first column lists "Facts about My Community", "Population and Housing Facts", and "Census Bureau Products". The second column lists "Maps" and "Industry and Business Facts". The third column lists "Search FactFinder". Each link is accompanied by a brief description of the service.

Guide to the 1997 Economic Census

INTRODUCTION

The Economic Census provides a detailed portrait of the Nation's economy once every five years, from the national to the local level.

The 1997 Economic Census covers nearly all of the U.S. economy in its basic collection of establishment statistics. There also are several related programs, including statistics on minority- and women-owned businesses. Censuses of agriculture and governments are conducted at the same time.

Results from the census will be issued on CD-ROM and on the Internet, starting in early 1999 and continuing for more than 2 years. Only summary reports will be issued in print.

Material is being added to this Guide on a regular basis. For more detail, check back in a few weeks. Your comments on the structure and organization of this material are welcome.
